NATURE OF WORK:

Assists Curator with planning and organizing the acquisition, storage, care and exhibition of Museum collections and related materials. Responsibilities include the documentation of objects; managing collection records; performing related research; providing access; ensuring appropriate storage, proper handling and security of objects; and preparing collections for exhibitions. Works directly with collection objects.

DISTINGUISHING CHARACTERISTICS:

This is a paraprofessional position supporting the Museum's collections and exhibition programs. Requires significant technical knowledge and independent judgment to coordinate activities related to the Museum's collections and exhibitions. Work is performed within defined practices and procedures. May specialize in particular materials or types of objects, such as, but not limited to documents, books, photographs, paintings, decorative arts, textiles, metals, or architectural materials.

SUPERVISORY RELATIONSHIPS:

Reports to a Museum Curator who assigns work and reviews performance. Works under general supervision and the guidance of applicable City and Museum policies, procedures and regulations. May serve as lead worker, provide training, technical guidance and day-to-day direction to student interns, volunteers and temporary or regular, non-benefited employees.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS:

1. Assists Curator with the physical organization and care of assigned collections. Utilizes conservationally-correct techniques and materials to store and maintain the order of the collections. Performs physical inventories.
2. Classifies and assigns registration numbers to artifacts; researches, catalogs and photographs objects and artifacts prior to storage and assists with inventory control.
3. Develops and maintains registration, cataloging, and basic record-keeping systems, using standard computer applications such as electronic databases, word processing and spreadsheet programs.
4. Under supervision, may assist with cleaning and maintaining collection objects. Addresses pest-control issues and maintains pest management programs as necessary.

5. Prepares objects and artifacts for storage and shipping.
6. Responds to information requests and provides information from the institution's holdings to other curators, researchers and to the public. Assists other staff and the public to interpret items from collections. Conducts research, as appropriate, to accurately interpret collections.
7. May train and provide technical guidance and day-to-day direction to student interns, volunteers and temporary or regular, non-benefited employees, as assigned.
8. Assists Curator with negotiations for purchases, de-accessions, or loans of collections and reproductions. Prepares correspondence for new acquisitions and incoming or outgoing loans of objects and artifacts. Prepares condition reports, loan agreements and other paperwork.
9. Assists with special research projects, as assigned.

ADDITIONAL WORK PERFORMED:

1. May install, arrange, assemble, and prepare objects and/or artifacts for exhibition, ensuring the safety of the items, reporting their status and condition, and identifying and correcting any problems with the set-up.
2. May present public programs, host tours or host public research hours.
3. May coordinate sales of reproductions from the collections.
4. May specialize in particular materials or types of objects, such as photographs, paintings, textiles, or other materials.
5. May curate exhibitions.
6. Performs other related duties as needed.

KNOWLEDGE AND SKILLS:

- Working knowledge of standard museum practices, procedures and ethics, especially as related to collections care and management.
- Working knowledge of proper procedures for handling, care and preservation of museum objects and/or artifacts.
- Working knowledge of proper research methods and resources, including primary research and analysis in regard to art, history, and/or ethnology.
- Knowledge of business English composition, spelling, punctuation and grammar to compose official correspondence.
- Proficiency in standard office equipment and computer software, such as word processing and database applications, preferably Past Perfect.
- Ability to create and maintain database and manual record keeping systems.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills combined with courtesy and tact for establishing effective working relationships with a diversity of personnel, groups and individuals.
- Ability to maintain accuracy and attention to detail while working in an environment of competing demands and interruptions.
- Ability to work independently and to manage time to complete projects and meet deadlines.
- Excellent skills in problem solving and time management.
