RAINWATER TANKS/CISTERNS

CISTERNS – LOCAL DISTRIBUTORS

For all vendors, look first at the listed manufacturer's website to find the tank(s) you're interested in, then call distributor for price, availability, delivery or pick-up options. Be sure to plan and source all plumbing connections you'll need before buying a tank.

Craigslist Bellingham
<http://bellingham.craigslist.org/>
Search Craigslist for "rain barrel". Several sources sell barrels (up to 55 gallon capacity) or liquid storage tanks (100+ gallon capacity) that can be adapted for use as a rainwater harvesting system. Make sure storage tanks are food-grade or NSF approved. Translucent tanks should be painted to prohibit ultraviolet light from encouraging algae growth.
